

This pattern is designed with fusible machine applique in mind.
 Full sized templates included. Skill Level is Advanced Beginner
 Assumes the quilter already has a good working knowledge of quilting, and applique skills. Directions for assembling a quilt are not included.

Designed to be used as a Row Robin exchange.
 Pattern includes full sized templates for five sewing machines, and assorted notions to be used to create your own personalized row to exchange with friends or quilting group.

Sindy Rodenmayer
 1341 Kynn Drive
 Garland Texas, 75041
fatcatpatterns@gmail.com
 Website: <http://www.fatcatpatterns.com/>
<https://www.facebook.com/FatCatPatterns>

Sindy's Sew Along

© Sindy Rodenmayer 2015

Sindy's Sew Along

© Sindy Rodenmayer 2015

Welcome to the “Sew Along” row exchange!

I designed this for my Friends on the FatCat Pattern Yahoo group, but you are more than welcome to play along, or even to start an exchange amongst your own group. The concept is simple. Using the templates provided create a block that represents your sewing space. Then personalize the signature square with your name, and favorite quilting quote. Trade these amongst your quilting group!

Specifically for FCP Yahoo Group Exchange:

This exchange will be fused only. Not sewn to your base blocks. This allows us to applique stitch ourselves and have consistency throughout our finished quilt.

The base blocks ARE sewn together, leaving the siggy square unattached.

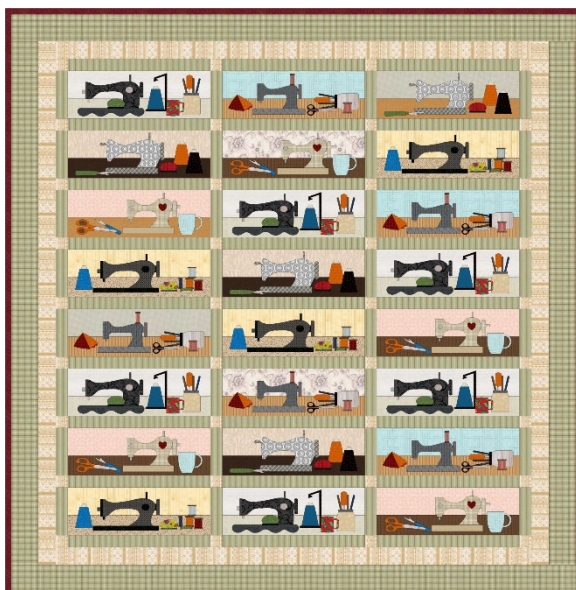

Use a fusible that is proper for machine applique.

Use permanent fabric safe pens for siggy squares.

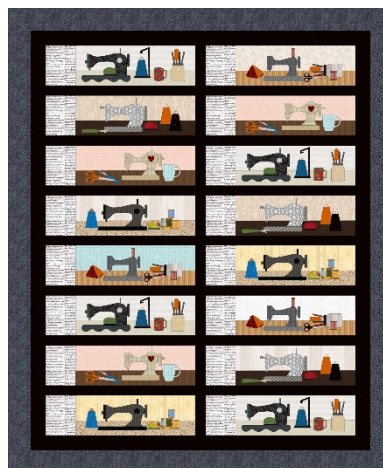

Use good quality 100% cotton quilting fabrics. I will check blocks. Blocks that do not follow the rules will be returned unswapped.

The patterns are designed so you can mix and match the templates to create your own look. Feel free to add your own bit of imagination to your blocks.

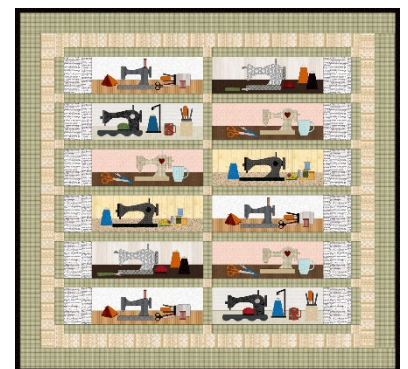

Below you can see some concept art showing different ways you can finish up your blocks into a quilt.

example –_three rows of blocks with siggies left off.

example – two rows of blocks with siggies on left.

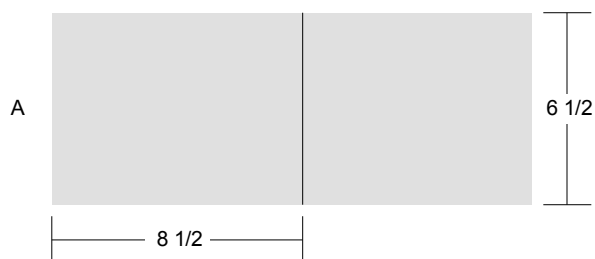

example –_2 rows of blocks with siggies on outside edges.

This is the base block for Sindy's Sew Along.
 It will measure 8.5 inches x 30.5 inches unfinished as shown.
 Without the signature block attached it will measure 8.5 inches x 24.5 inches.

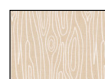

Patch A is the signature square. For our exchange we will NOT be attaching these to the block.
 Patch B is the upper portion of the block.
 Patch C is the lower portion of the block, representing your sewing desk.

Cutting Diagrams

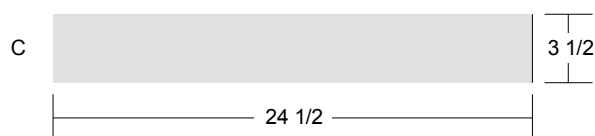

1 patch

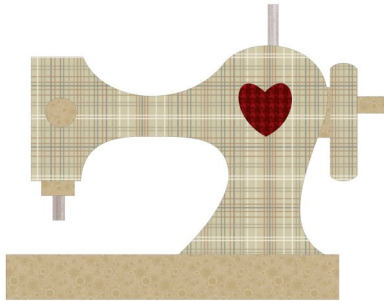

Using fabric safe pens, and staying at least 1 inch away from the edges - write your name and your favorite quilting quote.

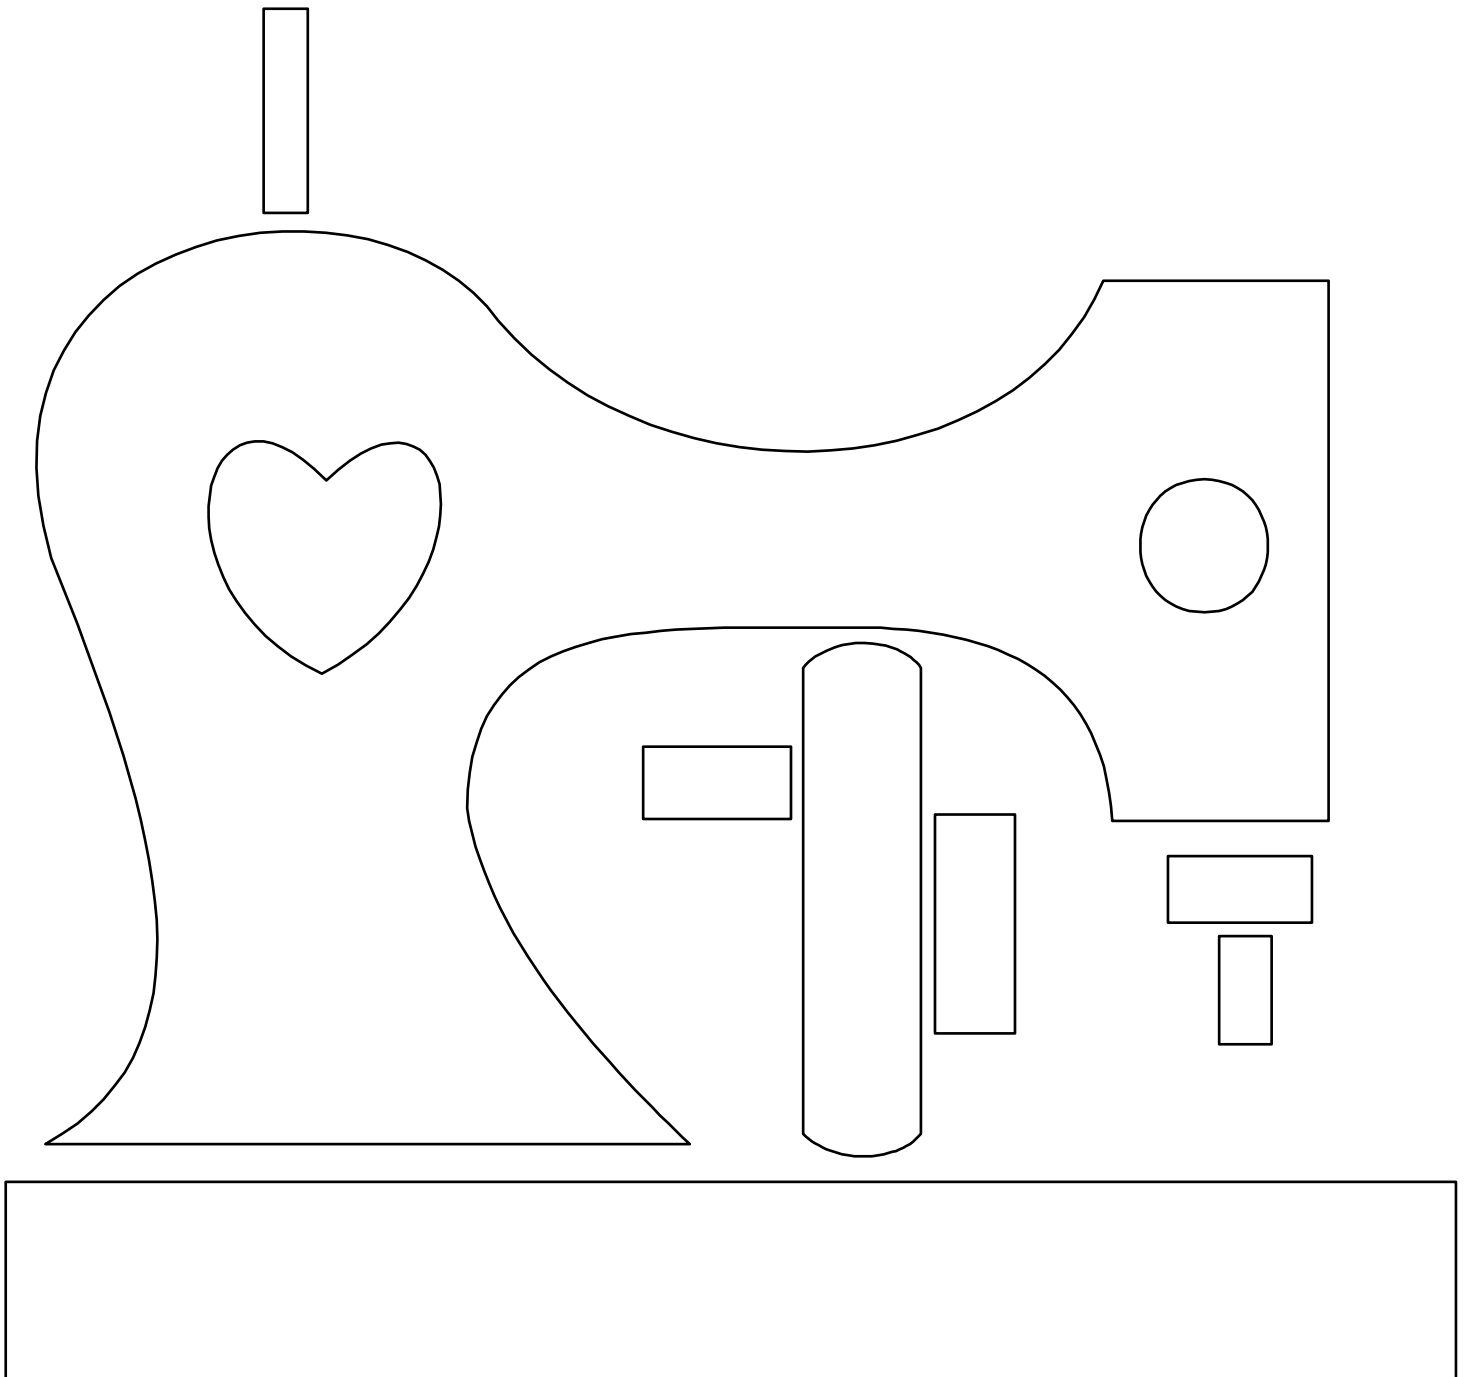

1 patch

1 patch

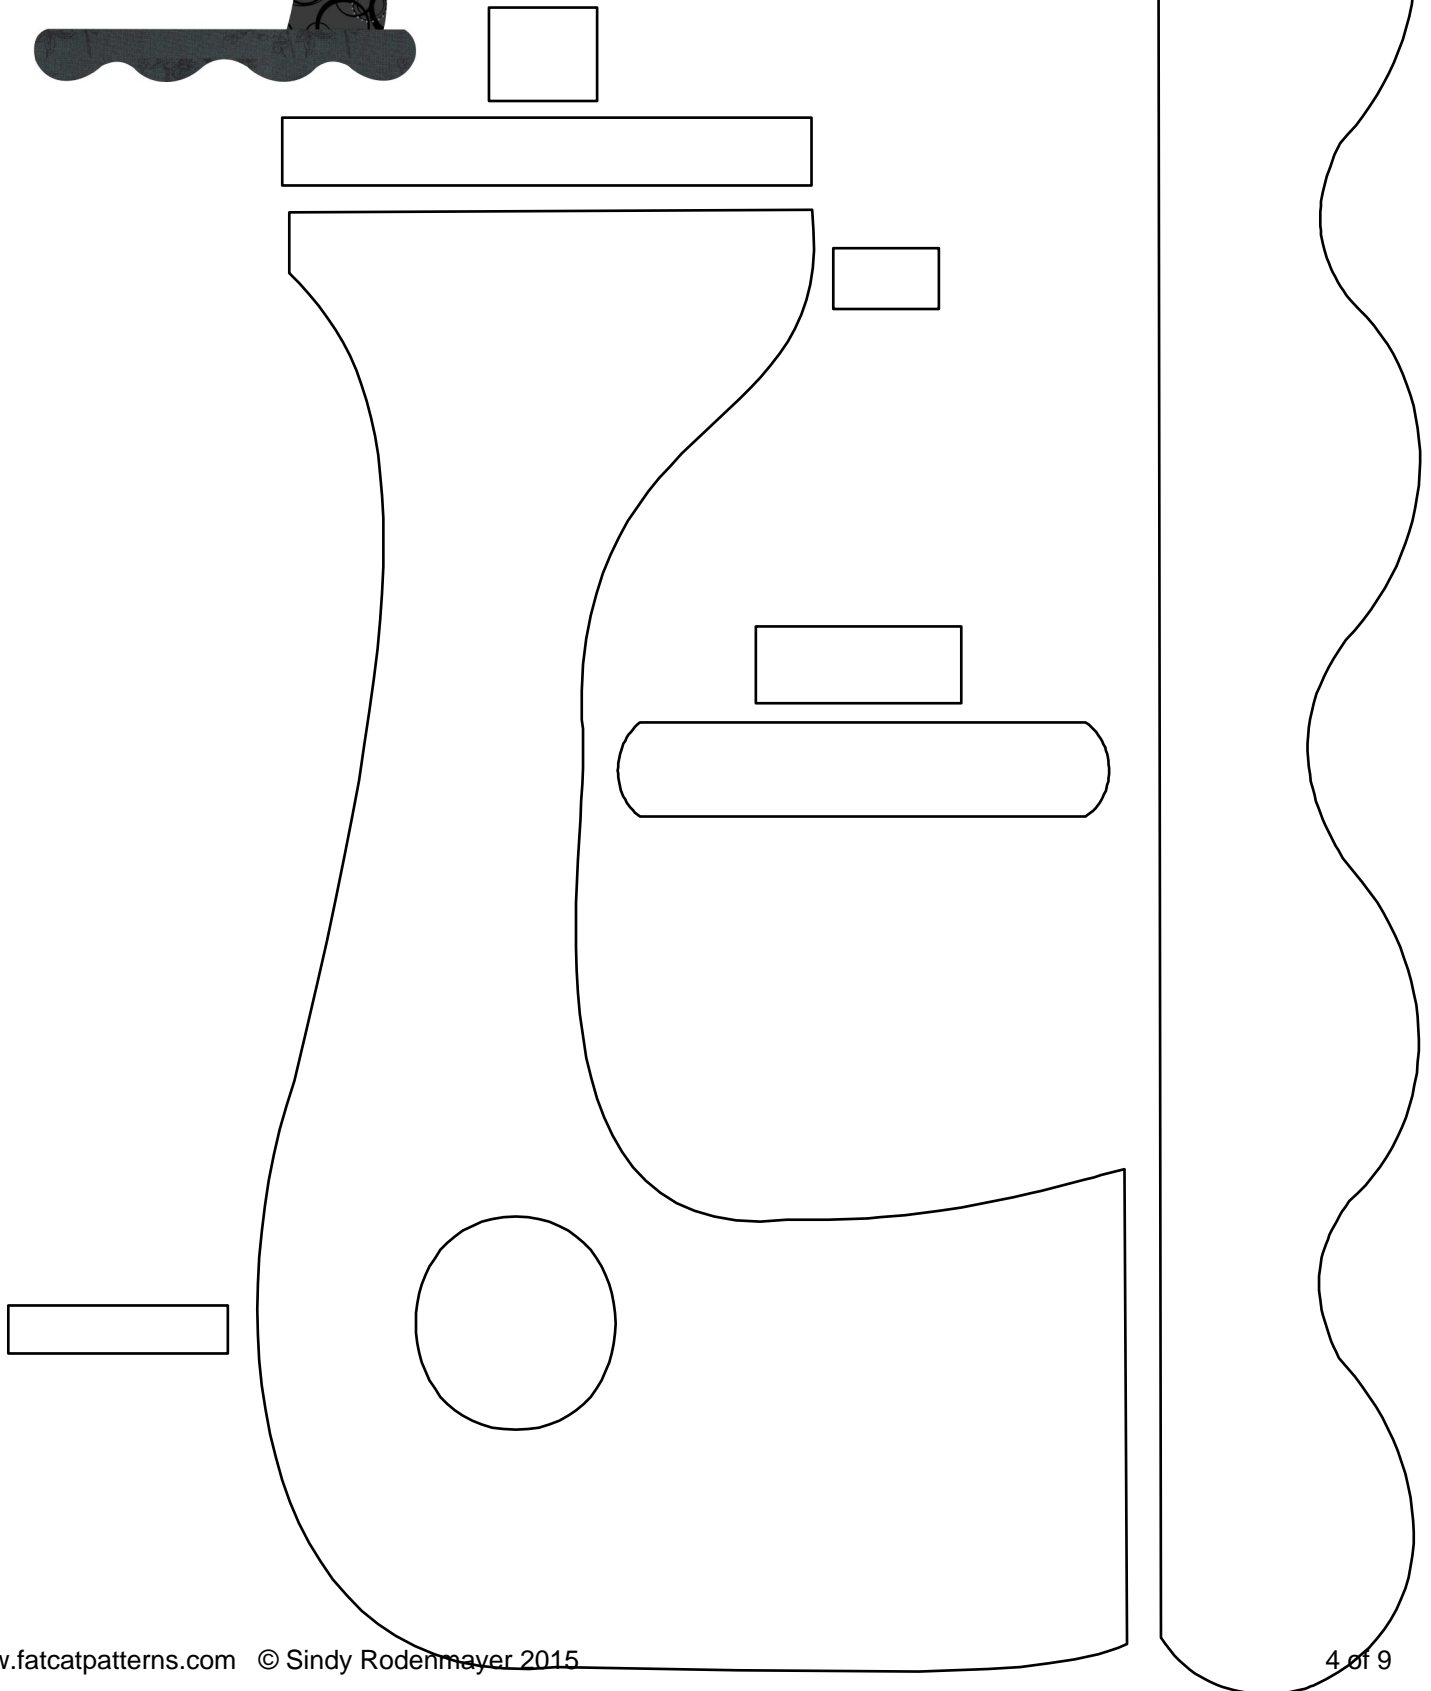

These templates have been reversed.
Once you have the patches fused to your fabric they will look like the picture here.

These templates have been reversed.
Once you have the patches fused to your fabric they will look like the picture here.

These templates have been reversed.
Once you have the patches fused to your fabric they will look like the picture here.

These templates have been reversed.
Once you have the patches fused to your fabric
they will look like the picture here.

These templates have been reversed.
Once you have the patches fused to your fabric they will look like the picture here.

